COIN OF FINDING

Wondrous Item, rare (requires attunement)

This appears to be a normal gold coin. However, once attuned to, the attuner can use an action to sense the direction from themselves to this coin over any distance as long as the coin is on the same plane as the attuner. If the coin is moving, they also sense the direction of its movement.

Unlike other items, attunement to this coin does not cease if the coin is more than 1000 feet from the attuner. However, if the attuner goes more than one week without using an action to sense the direction to the coin then the attunement is lost. The attuner can also drop attunement at will.

by Stuart Langridge