Sheath of Shadow Daggers

Wondrous item, very rare

This black leather dagger sheath is threaded for a belt strap or to be worn behind the neck, and is covered in embossed runes in an obscure arcane alphabet. Found within the sheath is a thin black dagger, made of some shadowy material. This shadow dagger leaks black smoke when withdrawn from the sheath. After being used in a melee or ranged attack, or one minute after being removed, the dagger dissolves into shadows and returns to the sheath. It causes damage as a normal dagger, but counts as a magical weapon for the purposes of attacks on creatures resistant or immune to strikes from normal weapons. A shadow dagger cannot appear in full daylight; under direct sunlight or equivalent the sheath seems empty and any already withdrawn dagger dissolves into shadow.

by Stuart Langridge